

WRAP YOU UP

© Belinda McArdle 2016

OOOooooos

Never mind telling your story twice – My job is to listen not give advice
Never mind telling me you're afraid – My job is to be here not steal your pain
(I won't steal your pain)

But if I could wrap you up, But if I could wrap you up, But if I could wrap you up,
Oh I would wrap you up

Never mind drying your weary eyes – My job is to hold still and let you cry Never mind letting the silence ring – My job's to give comfort, to let you bring – a heartsong to sing

But if I could wrap you up, But if I could wrap you up, But if I could wrap you up,
Oh I would wrap you up

And I hear angels are calling, they're calling
And I hear angels are calling, they're calling and calling – and calling – and calling

But if I could wrap you up, But if I could wrap you up, But if I could wrap you up,
Oh I would wrap you up

OOOooooos
