

I WANT TO MEET YOU

© Belinda McArdle 2019

I want to meet you for the first time every day for the rest of my life
I want to meet you for the first time every day for the rest of my life

Some days I just love you - Some days I wish I was you
Some days I think I break you - To put you back again, to put you back again

I want to meet you for the first time every day for the rest of my life
I want to meet you for the first time every day for the rest of my life

Some days I just wanna hold you - Some days I barely know you
Some days I try to own you, just to pull me up again, to pull me up again

I've begged and I've fallen to my knees- I've never known days like these But like the stars _ on the wheel – All that glitters and shines and sparkles can be real

I want to meet you for the first time every day for the rest of my life
I want to meet you for the first time every day for the rest of my life
